

Schwörertrasse

The image is a technical map showing a yellow highlighted path, labeled 'Schwörertrasse', crossing a blue river. The path is shown as a solid yellow line with a dashed yellow line parallel to it. The river is a light blue area. The surrounding land is divided into green and grey areas, representing different types of terrain or land use. A network of black lines with white dots at intersections is overlaid on the map, likely representing a road or utility network. A thick black dashed line is visible in the upper left corner. A black dot on the path is connected by a thin black line to the text label 'Schwörertrasse'.
